KDMV – $5 million deal announced on Friday could make KDMV eligible for AMEX. Will its stock explode as the shorters cover?

Kingdom Ventures (OTCBB: KDMV)

First, we would like to congratulate our readers for their continued investment successes. UNWR, TLKO and LRSY, have all gone up by more than 100%!!!

Today's profile is Kingdom Ventures, Inc. (OTCBB: KDMV), a rapidly growing church development company. We believe this stock may be poised for at least a 100% increase within a week. Several reasons support our findings: $5 million investment announced after the bell on Friday, a potential AMEX application and a technical bounce. Read on – this could be our most profitable pick ever!!!

COMPANY: Kingdom Ventures is a church development company operating in the multi-billion dollar Christian marketplace. 92% of Americans embrace a belief in God. KDMV is building the ultimate Christian affinity group program. Christians spend hundreds of billions of dollars on everyday goods and services annually. KDMV's program enables participating companies to reach millions of active church members and get access to these billions. Wal-Mart and Costco are already approved to join in!!!

OPPORTUNITY #1: KDMV has recently teamed up with a Sprint and Qwest aggregator (YNP) to establish a Church Website Initiative. After markets closed on Friday KDMV announced it has signed a contract with YNP providing for the prepayment of the set up, development, maintenance and service fees associated with 5,000 websites that KDMV will offer to its client churches, worth $5 MILLION!

This is HUGE! KDMV can book this $5 million prepayment on its balance sheet as additional assets!

OPPORTUNITY #2: $5 MILLION in net assets meets the most difficult requirement to get listed on the AMEX. KDMV has also established a corporate governance program that goes beyond the AMEX requirements.

Do you see where we are going? The handwriting is on the wall. Since the company now meets most or all AMEX listing requirements, we believe the application could be around the corner, leading to a huge potential increase in KDMV's stock price. Stocks that graduate from OTCBB to AMEX may explode! AMEX listing makes it difficult to artificially deflate their stock price by making shorting more difficult. In addition, institutional investors and brokers can't typically invest in OTC listed stocks. So when the company goes to Amex, its stock may get a fresh new surge of demand, and an explosion in the stock price!!!

OPPORTUNITY #3: KDMV could be the ultimate technical play. Its stock was trading on heavy volumes at $1.10 just a few weeks ago. The stock has since gone down to $0.60 even though the company has made incredible progress almost on a daily basis. We believe this is due to market makers shorting the stock, i.e. selling KDMV stock they never owned.

Market makers file their reports at the end of the month. Showing an open position is often harmful and costly, so they typically cover the short (buy back the stock they already sold) during the last week of the month. This is NOW! The short cover alone could send the stock back to $1.10. But combined with the AMEX speculations, we believe it can go as high as $5.15 – the price target KDMV recently received from AlphaAnalytics.

BILLION DOLLAR QUESTION: Any one of these three reasons can send the stock up 100%. This is the first time in our publication's history where the stock has all three elements perfectly aligned! This could be our most profitable profile ever!
